Dear Jacques,
I know one Jacques to another Jacques I want to wish you
the very best of all good things.

Love
Jacques

Dear Jacques
I remember all the fun we had a camp one year. I've seen you a lab in the past few years and really admire you.
Loads of luck

Jacques here's hoping you have a nice time
-now- that school's out.
All the wishes in the world.
Wedding.

Well Jacques
I haven't got a pen but someday
I would see a big man
-you- and say that I wrote here. I've known each other for a long time &
I always remember you.
I like it easy & love of luck

Jacques.
I've got a lot of memories - a lot of them. I'm going
now to new places,
new faces, etc. but I'll not forget. I don't think I ever will.
Thanks for everything.
& be good.

Bill

Dear Jacques:

It is only from the kindness of my heart that I can't tell Miss Brown to make you model that skirt. Lots of luck Bobb, and let me hear from you once in a while. So long you old dope.

Nice going, Jacques, you're got a lot to be proud of,
short dresses, short body & all.

Dear Jacques,

Love,

Bob Patterson

Well, our freshman year I really knew you. Now — well, I'm not sure. You're really neat, itaugh, Bobb, and I sure think a lot of you. Yes & dawns? Now, have we had them. Here's wishing you luck with all those men. Maybe I'll see you when I'm home next year. I truly hope so. You're one of those things (?) that goes with happy memories. —

Dear Jackie,
 It's pretty hard for me to sign these annuals caused I can't think of much to say, but I do wish you loads upon loads of luck in the future and thanks for the swell times in roll room and Physics.

Dear Jackie
 I've really enjoyed following you, I thought you were a swell treasure. I hope you get that all straightened out soon.

Dear Jackie
 Well, what you know you know I've gone to Rance school with you for four years now, I still don't know you very well, Well anyway I'll have hoping you have lots of luck & success in everything you do.

Dear Jackie Say ole gal I just must tell you how swell you are even though you should know it from all the others it's been swell though I did really miss seeing you around occasionally.
 So until we meet again
 love & luck

Dear Jacques,
Well, look, all right, we are just about 27-Centennial night (not necessarily!) and when really had a big time, huh? I wonder what the old place will be like after we're gone! Well probably collapse! But seriously, you are a great guy and a life with you is a great Dedication .

As the members of the Class of 1944 look back upon the scenes that unfolded before them during their years in Centennial, one of their most pleasant memories will undoubtedly be of the musical life of our High School. For all Centennial students there will be recollections of the enchanting and inspiring music of our Glee Clubs, our Band and our Orchestra, in addition to the many informal groups that grew out of these organizations. For those who availed themselves of the musical opportunities offered here and personally participated in

It's a long time since the night Bill & I shyly walked up & down in front of your house. The proverbial water & the proverbial bread & all that, but please don't ever forget your "Now" & the little things it stands for. I know you'll never forget the girls who stood me up at the prom. I believe most of my memories are pleasant ones, but good not good, all see you. Dewey these activities there will be a life-time of musical culture and appreciation ahead. For more than a score of years Centennial has enjoyed a wide reputation for the excellence of musical achievements. Full credit for this outstanding contribution to the fame of our High School goes to Mr. Roy N. Collins of the Vocal Department and to Mr. Rei Christopher of the Instrumental Department. To these gentlemen, with appreciation of their fine personal qualities as well as of their professional achievements, the Staff gratefully dedicates this book.

MR. REI CHRISTOPHER

Dear Jacqui,

Hi girl! Say remember one summer over at your house we were going to have an old time same night and stay in the night those days. Remember, (courage) remember your pep and your cute little smile. Kys of luck to you always and always. Love, Sanathy M.

"All the world's a stage"—all Centennialites are the players. We've set the stage. The curtain's ready. The house lights have dimmed upon this year, and we are all ready for reminiscing.

This play is your record of a year's activity in Centennial. We hope that in future years it will bring back happy memories to you, and that you will applaud the play in which you were an actor.

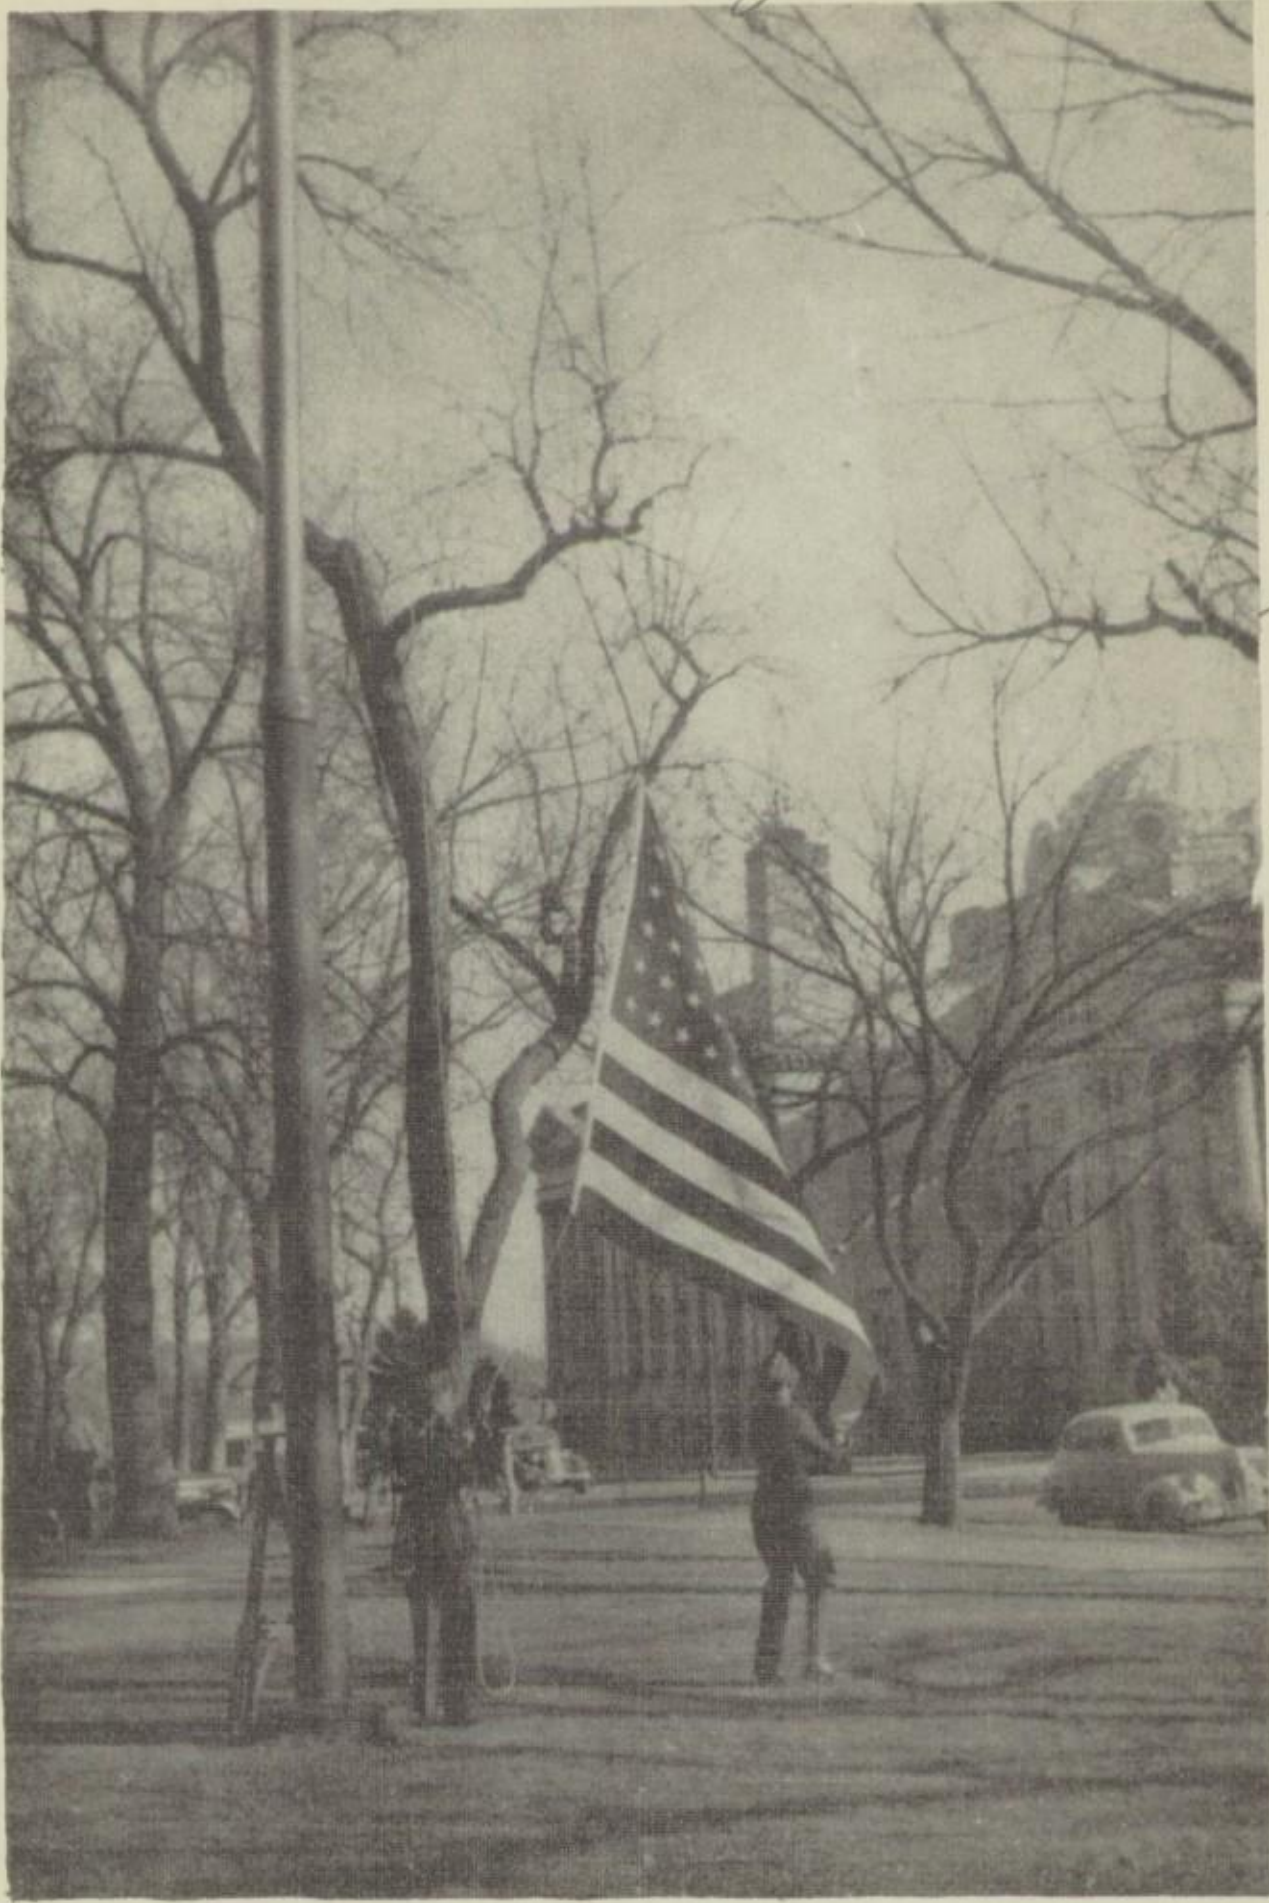

Now—on with the play!

The Directors

Every play has its directors, and the quality of the directors determines whether the play will be good or bad. Our Centennial play is one of the best, for our directors are top-notch. Mr. Risley and his assistants, the school board, Mr. Heaton and his office force, and the teachers, all deserve an academy award.

In the death of Mr. Harlan J. Smith, treasurer of our district, we lost an old and valued friend. He has served the district faithfully for many years and was a devoted friend as well as an efficient official of the school district. Mr. Charles M. Thompson has been chosen by the board to be the new treasurer.

Too many times the office force is overlooked. This department has the tremendous task of keeping all the files and records very necessary for a school of this size. Then, too, there is the superintendent's office "downstairs," which handles the records of the whole school district. Both of these offices perform an efficient job with cheerfulness and friendliness.

The faculty has a harder job than ever now because the war has invaded the field of education as it has every other field. With many boys and girls working, with supplies curtailed, with boys leaving for the armed services, the teachers are making the best of trying times. Just as before, though, they always have time to help any student with his problems. They not only tell us to do things but show us how and help us. In the class room and in the many extra-curricular activities they play the part of teacher and sponsor. They teach us tolerance and democratic living, besides text-book lore.

The faculty of Centennial has helped the war effort by handling rationing, by providing special mathematics classes, by assisting in salvage drives, by working for the Red Cross, and by helping the clubs and societies in their many war activities.

All these friends have made this school year a grand experience, and our successes in the bigger plays to come will be due in a large part to our directors in dear old Centen.

JOANNE MACFARLANE.

Dear Jacques,

My very first flame, I can't tell you how very many beautiful memories of times together. I know that they will not end here but will go on and be increased tenfold. So long for now

Joanne

Centennial Parent-Teacher Association

This year, as always, the Centennial P. T. A. has been a link between the home and the school. The theme for the year has been Maintaining the Home Front. Their special consideration has been for the Centennial boys who are now in the armed forces.

The P. T. A. members have been caught in the tide of war work. They have been especially outstanding in the A. W. V. S., Gray Ladies, U. S. O., and on ration boards.

The programs have been the outstanding feature this year. They were presented by the students in the various organizations of Centennial in order to acquaint the parents with the work of these groups. Mr. Collins and Mr. Christopher have given musical programs. Mr. Mitchell has staged discussion groups demonstrating the direction along analyzing current problems. Dramatic instruction has been shown in a program presented by Miss Garlick. The Home Economics Department, the Annual Staff, and the R. O. T. C. have given excellent programs showing the work of those departments.

We can rightly say the Centennial P. T. A. is carrying on in wartime as it has in peacetime.

A. C. O.

The Associated Centennial Officers is the governing body of the actors, and expresses their ideas about the production to the directors. This body is made up of the class officers and a representative from every organization.

These Junior Directors have many duties. They direct the hall guards, conduct fire drills, and supervise the horsemen. It is their pleasure to award the Centennial "C." They sponsor all paper drives, the activities of the Safety Council and the Centennial Junior Red Cross.

The hall guards are the helpers who keep peace and order for the big show, while the horsemen preserve order outdoors. The Safety Council is responsible for all safety programs and activities.

All these behind-the-scenes workers are what makes the finished production possible, and they have all done a grand job. The A. C. O. officers this year were Lyle Kingery, president; Ruth Gower, secretary; and Mr. Heaton, sponsor.

In Memoriam

With deep regret we record the passing on February 20, 1944, of Mr. Fred W. Ramsower, a friend of Centennial in the truest sense. For thirty-five years the care of our building was his special charge, and in more recent years the supervision of all the buildings of District No. 1 was entrusted to his care, as chief engineer. His dedication to his life's work, his friendly and helpful interest in the teachers and students of our school, his inspiring leadership in the training of the men and boys who worked with him, have served to achieve for him an exalted place in the esteem and affection of all who entered the halls of Centennial. The buildings of our district are a material monument to his ability and efficiency but a better and more lasting memorial will be the recollection of his cheerful personality and fine spirit which we shall always treasure in our hearts.

"He made his deeds the measure of a man."

Four Star Performance

Ruth

Way back in September 1940 the class of '44 presented the first act of its drama in four acts. The chief actors consisted of Lyle Kingery, who played the leading role of president; Jack Skinner, who was his stand-in, serving as vice-president; Ruth Gower and Joan Hyde, who had the feminine leads, acting as secretary and treasurer respectively; and Veryl McMillen, stealing the show as yell leader. Our most able director was Mr. Jehle. In the first scene the "Quiz Kids" was presented at the school vodevil. The next scene introduced some new actors, Hanna, Kingery, Evans, Rike, Elson, Colby, White, Lawson, McDonnell, Aubrey, Leonard, Dickerson, Hatton, Kleinhein, Brady, Heath, and Pusatory, all football players. The parts in the basketball scene were played by Kingery, Skinner, Bernstein, Summeral, Cox, Colby, Hatton, O'Conner, McDonnell. The Debate roles were filled by J. Robb, M. N. Smith, B. L. Nafe, G. Speakman, B. Moery, and B. Storer. Act one proved interesting and act two was anxiously awaited by all.

The lights were dimmed, and then the curtain rose on the second act. The lead was taken by Jack Skinner, as president, and his understudy was Ethel Morton. The human loud speaker was Bill Moery. Mr. Greene now took over as the director of the play. The entire class played a part in this act by collecting more magazines for the men in service than any other cast of players. In the field of football, honors were won by McDonnell, Kingery, Dickerson, and Hanna. Kingery took the honors in the basketball scene by being made a member of the first team. One of the outstanding and unusual scenes of this act was a pep assembly. The South Central Debate championship was captured by Bill Moery. The school echoed with applause as the curtain lowered on Act two.

1943 found the cast carrying on under wartime conditions. Things like gas, canned goods, meat, sugar, and shoes were rationed, but there was no rationing of school spirit or good times in Old Centen. The spotlight was on Lyle Kingery, president, and Bill Storer, vice-president, with Ruth Gower, Joan Hyde, and Bob Evans filling the other major parts.

This year we unanimously decided on our class memorial. We voted to purchase a bronze plaque to be a memorial to all Centennial boys and girls serving in the armed services during this present war.

Wartime activities did not occupy all the show. Three junior girls, Virginia Carson, Gladys Speakman, and Betty Lou Nafe, were finalists in the Hesperian essay contest with Virginia capturing the medal. Betty Lou Nafe won the D. A. R. essay contest, and Jacque Robb captured the Vories Debate medal.

The end of 1943 found us anxious for our senior year. The fourth act promised to be a hit performance. As the curtain rose our spirits were soaring. The balcony boomed with Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah 1944, Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah 1944—Boom, Seniors Rah!!

The capable Lyle Kingery was elected to the lead again. His assistants were Jack Skinner, Joan Hyde, and Ruth Gower. Bill Moery was chief yell leader and was assisted by Bob Miller, Bob Bernstein, Barbara Lewis, Phyllis Dedman, and Beth Varley.

The R. O. T. C. had a busy year under the Lt. Colonelship of "Pat" Kingery and Lt. Colonel Sponsor Betty Lou Nafe. Nancy Lee was elected by the students and faculty as our D. A. R. Pilgrim. Two senior girls, Rebecca Wigton and Maxine Mickey, were finalists in the Hesperian essay contest with Rebecca the proud winner. Joan Hyde was chosen Sports Queen. Members of National Honor Society consisted of Lyla Donley, Mary Jane Hopkins, Nancy Lee, Priscilla McCabe, Betty Lou Nafe, Gladys Speakman, Rhea West, Bob Bernstein, Bob Evans, Dean Hanna, Bill Moery, Sidney Pepper, and Bill Storer.

The senior act in the vodevil was a one-act play You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet, written by Virginia Carson and Betty Lou Nafe. The vodevil play Two Crooks and a Lady was a success, with Barbara Lewis, Phyllis Buchanan, and Dale Parker as actors. The Christmas play Voices was enacted by Virginia Carson and Betty Lou Nafe. The much awaited senior play went off with a bang under direction of Miss C. Gralick. Actors and actresses playing the parts in Letters to Lucerne were Beth Varley, Barbara Lewis, Joan Hyde, Bill Moery, Virginia Carson, Mary Nell Smith, Gerald Gerken, Dale Parker, Betty Lou Nafe, George Williams, Dorothy Major, Phyllis Buchanan, and Don Heath.

The Yearbook staff was headed by Nancy Lee, June McCabe, David Thomas, and Tim Taylor. Editorship of the Centennialight was handled by Don Heath, first semester, and Sidney Pepper, second semester, while Betty Lou Nafe was business manager for the year.

In the field of sports the stars were many—this list included Dickerson, McDonnell, Hanna, Shelly, Coburn, Skinner, Kingery, Boyd, Nimmo, Griffith, Venable, Bernstein, Ludwig, O'Connor, Patterson, and Evans.

Topmost in every senior's mind was the urge to help in the war effort. In the victory parade, we turned in three jalopies for scrap, which netted. $15.00. We also won a $25.00 prize for the best jalopy entered in the scrap parade. The war booth was open every day, under the direction of Dean Hanna. Nearly $6,000 worth of stamps and bonds were sold. All members of the class participated in the monthly paper drives, and those who brought at least 150 pounds of paper one month received an "E" award. We collected over 27 tons of paper in three drives, which netted the class $285.00. In February we purchased a Thousand Dollar War Bond to be presented to Mr. Heaton at commencement to go towards our class memorial.

Our caps and gowns are on the way and there isn't much more class history to be made. We've had a happy life in old Centen and it is with a tear and a smile that we leave its beloved halls and rooms. One more rousing cheer and we'll leave dear Centen but no matter where we go or how far we go, we'll never forget these four happy, happy years.

—BETTY LOU NAFF.

Making its first performance in 1941 and staying in the spotlight for three years, the junior class is looking forward to an even more successful year until curtain-time in June, 1945.

With Mark Longfield as director, Lain Ready as assistant director, Norma Jean Davis as prompter, Jacque Kaufman as keeper of the receipts, and Mr. William Jehle as senior director, we staged a triumphant drama in the school-year 1941-42. Although we all suffered somewhat from stage-fright, many freshmen displayed their talents in the circus, the vodevil, the band, the orchestra, or in the fields of scholarship or athletics. Shakespeare awards were earned by three of our brilliant actors—Rena Vassar, Norma Jean Davis, and Lain Ready.

Bill North took the leading role in our sophomore year's production, while Lain Ready, Norma Jean Davis, and Jacque Kaufman made up the supporting cast. Herb Johnson replaced Bob Hatton as our publicity manager, and members of the class found themselves engaged in all worthwhile activities under the able guidance of Miss Mary Melcher.

Because they displayed so much talent in their respective roles during the second year, Bill North, Lain Ready, Norma Jean Davis, Jacque Kaufman, and Herb Johnson were given the leading parts in "We're Juniors Now." Mr. Frank Smith replaced Miss Melcher, as our director.

Most important on the list of activities engaged in by the class was participating in the many war drives. We also took part in buying War Stamps, donating to the Junior Red Cross, and contributing to the tuberculosis and infantile paralysis funds.

Many displayed exceptional talent in the field of music. Harriet Goodman, coloratura soprano, made a successful appearance with the Pueblo Civic Symphony, while the "Downbeats"—Jeannie Lees, Dorothy Harnish, and Joyce Haycock—sang popular music and were in great demand. Of course the band, orchestra, and glee clubs were filled with Juniors, and a few Junior musicians even found their way to the local symphony.

Both the newspaper and the year book staffs contained the names of many juniors on their programs. Starring in debate were Bob Jackson and Mark Longfield.

On the literary stage were Pat Dunham, one of the three finalists in the Hesperian essay contest, Blanche Epstein, the winner of the Zebulon Pike essay contest sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and Marilyn Bell, the winner of the "Unity for Peace" essay contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

On the football field Ed Flanigan, Jack Mason, Bill North, Earl Otten, Wilson Palmer, Dick Conner, Bob Hunt, Bob Baer, Herb Johnson, Jack Donley, and Charles Temple gave a good performance. Tommy Stanton and Bob Ruegg earned their letters as top-notch hoopsters. With the coming of spring the following track stars came into the spotlight—Bob Baer, Bill Berry, Dick Conner, Richard Dale, Norman Hotzel, John Jones, Bob Katz, George Kenady, Bill May, Bill North, Earl Otten, Bob Ruegg, and Charles Temple.

And so, we of the class of '45 have come a long way since our opening-night in 1941 and now find ourselves able and eager to take over our duties as Seniors in order that we may stage a final, triumphant act next year.

Act Two

We, the "forty-sixers," look back happily on our successful debut at the old Centennial theatre. Of course our first production was a trifle awkward; we were somewhat confused, but under the able direction of Mr. William Jehle we completed a splendid performance. The cast was headed by Kenneth King, who soon moved away and was replaced by his understudy, Bevan Haycock. Kay Ducey efficiently took care of the finances while Artha Mae Melton recorded our successes. Don Brandon was elected to lead our feeble yells.

This year the starring role was played by Joe Lacy, supported by Tom Bartley, as vice president. Olive Scribner became business manager and kept a watchful eye upon the money. Artha Mae Melton starred again in her old part as secretary. Donny Evans was chosen yell leader, and the position of director was held by Miss Eleanor Cullen.

We helped our country by making extensive contributions to the scrap drives, donating generously to the Red Cross, lifting the morale of the soldiers by giving them our magazines, and last but by no means least by supporting our country and making sound investments in war stamps.

In the field of athletics we shone brightly. Bevan Haycock, Don Brandon, Alvan Perry, Manuel Baca, Daryl Fitzsimmons, Bob Cable, Alvin Johnson, Joe Lacy, Bud Brady, and Tano Valle all won their deserved football letters. Chester Wigton, Bob Manire, Donny Evans, and Bob Cable starred on the basketball court. On the track team the class of '46 was well represented.

The more musically inclined members were attracted to the orchestra, band, and glee clubs. Sophomore participation in these activities added considerably to the success of the class. The Sophomore class has taken an active part in the many and varied societies and organizations of Centennial.

Our scholastic achievements are something to be proud of, for each month the honor roll has been well filled with sophomore names. Last year when we were mere freshmen, Willa Nuckolls and Tom Bartley won the coveted Shakespeare scholastic awards.

As the curtain falls on this scene, we anxiously await Act III when we, as the Junior Class of Centennial, will stage an ever hectic performance.

The Class of '47 came onto the new and bigger stage of Centennial a little unsure of itself but confident. We learned our parts, perhaps missing a few cues here and there, but in general doing all right under the leadership of Mr. Jehle, the director. The leading roles were taken by Jack Parsons, president; Morton Rosenblum, vice-president; Steve Dunda, secretary; Carol Colby, treasurer, and Stuart Comer, yell leader.

The Freshmen took part in many of the activities of Centennial. Many girls were in Altiora, Art League, the Commercial Club, or the Centennettes, and many Freshmen were on the staffs of the Centenniallight and the Yearbook. Everyone enjoyed the Freshmen Club. A Freshman Hi-Y was organized. Many Freshmen were in the band, orchestra, or one of the glee clubs. Others took part in the Vodevil, and the Trapeze Matinee, which took the place of the Circus, consisted mainly of Freshmen.

The Freshman football team, under the guidance of Coach Fred Smith, had a very good record, winning four games, tying one, and losing none, but the Freshman basketball team, coached by Ed Smith, did even better, winning twenty-one games and losing none. There should be a lot of good material for next year's teams among this year's Freshmen.

By the end of the year, Freshmen of the Class of '47 have become used to the Centennial stage and are well on their way to becoming good actors.

My Dearest Jacquelyne

Well here we sit, waiting for the street car, ^{and} me. ^{and} Libbing. ^{and} pounding out my brains trying to think of something to say.

In signing most annuals, it's really quite simple, but in signing yours well — it's just different, that's all, there are so many things I could say, but I just don't ^{know} how, (first time in my life I never had anything to say) but may I say this.

I think you're the sweetest, nicest, most loveable girl I have ever known, believe me.
If there was every anyone that fast couldn't help but liking you they were nuts. That sweet smile and that cute little laugh. A girl who never gets mad but always talking about her hot temper. I know I'm not famous as a fudge, but in my estimation, you can't beat, Jacqueline Robb.

I know I got off the beam once and how bad I felt afterwards, so if I ever do anything like that again to you may I be taken out and shot. If I ever get jealous again may these above words be brought to my attention.

If you and I ever break up please the kind of girl I ^{will} ~~try~~ and find to take your place will be another Jacqueline or it will be no go. The first time I saw you I just thought "my how cute"; the second time I knew you and I had to get acquainted, the third time well it was just gone — that all.

Now that I have told you what I think and how I feel about you, will you please try and get up with me?

And may you and I go on forever and a day being the best of "buddyduddy" - jolly - jolly "friends."

ACT UP! "Buddy Duddy"
Shake Walker

P.S. I have now ruined your annual but you told me to, and I had to do as you told me, but remind you to try you a new few first thing in the morning

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the most cherished goals of Centennial students. This honor is granted by the faculty to only fifteen per cent of each senior class. Eligibility is based on character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Under the direction of Miss Tour members of the organization served as substitute teachers, helping to relieve the shortage of instructors in Centennial.

Officers for this year were: Dean Hanna, president; Sidney Pepper, vice president; Rhea West, treasurer; Priscilla McCabe, secretary; and Miss Isabelle Tour, critic.

Four things a girl must learn to do
If she would make her record true;
To think without confusion clearly,
To love her fellowmen sincerely,
To act from honest motives purely,
To trust in God and Heaven securely.

Due to a general lack of recreational facilities in Pueblo, the year 1943-1944 was an especially important one for Senior Hi-Y. In addition to the regular Thursday night meetings of the organization a series of dances and swimming parties were enjoyed. Contributions to the hospitals and other charitable agencies were also part of the year's program.

The most important and most commendable move of the year was the formation of the Y. M. C. A. Youth Club. A room at the Y. M. C. A. was entirely prepared by Hi-Y members as the club's home. A program of dances and games was worked out, and a ping pong tournament was arranged. An orchestra was organized to assist in the work of the club. By the end of the year, the project was well under way.

Meetings were held every Thursday night at the Y. M. C. A. with interesting programs presented. A number of joint meetings with the other Hi-Y groups, in which current problems were discussed, were also enjoyed. The social activities for the year included three dances and a "stag" party.

Wallace Frazer went to the district Hi-Y conference at Denver and brought back an interesting report of the meeting.

The Junior Hi-Y has completed a very successful year under the able sponsorship of Mr. Hill and Mr. Snodgrass.

Boys' Science Club

Boys' Science Club, the only organization of its kind in Centennial, has the sole purpose of enlarging the scientific background of its members.

This purpose is realized in the interesting and informative experiments, which are performed by the members at the meetings. These young Pasteurs, Edisons, and Steinmetzs sought further knowledge by visiting the Pueblo Sewage Disposal Plant, Walter's Brewery, and the Pueblo Ordnance Depot.

Leading their fellow scientists through a year prolific in learning and achievement were presidents, Bill Moery and Bill Quillen; vice presidents, Dean Hanna, and Bill Storer; secretary-treasurer, Verdon Johnson; sergeant-at-arms, Bob Bernstein, and Jack Skinner; and critic, Mr. Jones.

Freshman Hi-Y met every Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. under the able leadership of Major Lindahl.

After a late start Freshman Hi-Y got underway and has turned into a smooth running club.

The year's social activities included a party and many after-meeting swims.

Jim Lindahl, Richard Boyd, and Phillip Douglas attended the District Hi-Y conference at Denver and brought back many new and helpful ideas.

Centennettes

I laugh too.

This was Centennettes eighth successful year under the capable guidance of Miss Matthews.

Because of the lack of materials due to the war, the uniform was slightly changed. In place of the traditional red sweater we had white sweaters to match our white skirts and "dinks." We kept the same white bulldog outlined in red to wear on our sweaters.

At the Centennial-Trinidad football game the girls produced several effective field formations during the half. Centennettes and the "C" club sponsored a very successful pep dance to give the basketball team a good "send off" when they left for "state." Joan Hyde was "C" club queen with Mary Crews as her Junior attendant and Lila Lee Day as her Sophomore attendant.

Centennette officers for the year were: Ethel Morton, president; Georgia Lou Evans, vice-president; Rhea West, secretary; Barbara Lewis, treasurer; and Mary Jane Hopkins served as business manager.

Amicae

As the school term for 1944 closes, the Amicae, an organization of Centennial girls affiliated with the Y. W. C. A., completes another active and profitable year under the fine leadership of Mrs. Fred Pauls, Jr.

Helping its members make adjustments to situations, giving them friendship, enabling them to have good times, and developing old interests and cultivating new ones, are the main purposes of this organization.

This year's program included pot-luck suppers, a beautiful initiation service, a joint conference on "Boy and Girl Friendship," and the annual formal installation banquet. As a money raising project, Amicae sponsored a Penny Carnival. Serving as nurses aides at Corwin hospital and sending gifts to the soldiers at Christmas time was part of Amicae's war activity.

The officers for the past year were Lillian Archires, president; Betty Jane Cash, vice-president; Gloria Sena, secretary; Minnie Hidaka, treasurer; and Laura Lee Van Winkle, inter club council representative.

Rough Riders

It's the last minute rush—our act is on! "Swing your partner—now the lady on your left." This strain is familiar to all those who dance every other Monday afternoon in the Centennial gymnasium under Miss Wentworth's skillful direction.

Many new square dances and couple dances have been learned and enjoyed during the year.

This is the eighth successful year of the Rough Rider Organization in Centennial High School.

Girls' Athletic Club

The Girls' Athletic Club is completing another eventful and enjoyable year under the capable leadership of Miss Wentworth. The officers were—president, Frances Quillen; secretary, Charlotte Murphy; and treasurer, Evelyn Terrill.

Sports took an active part in this year's activities. Archery, football, basketball, and a tennis tournament were enjoyed by all. The losing team of each sport entertained the winners. The forms of entertainment produced by the losers included a hay ride, galloping nickel-anti, and various forms of parties.

Quill and Scroll

The purpose of Quill and Scroll, an International Honor Society for High School Journalists, is to further the ideals of journalism through a higher code of ethics, by the promotion of exact thinking, and encouraging forceful writing. Only students of high scholastic standing who have done some outstanding work on either the editorial or business staffs of the Centenniallight or the Year Book are elected to membership.

Quill and Scroll has been ably guided by Mr. George Diel. The officers were Fred Holloran, president; Jacque Robb, vice-president; Nancy Lee, secretary; Mary Nell Smith, treasurer; and Agnes Neis, sergeant-at-arms.

The Centenniallight

The three staffs of the Centenniallight, working together, have completed a successful year's work under the direction of their able critics—Miss Faye Breckenridge of the business staff, Mr. Arthur Stanley of the Printing Department, and Mr. George Diel of the news staff.

With Don Heath as first semester editor and Sidney Pepper as second semester editor, the Centenniallight received many honors, one of which was the highest the paper has ever received. This outstanding honor is the Columbia Medalist Certificate, which was presented to the newspaper department after the Centenniallight received 988 points out of a possible 1,000 in the rating.

Other honors the paper received were the National Scholastic Press Association All-American Award, the Victory Star Award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, the Quill and Scroll International Honor Award, and the All-Columbian Award in Typography.

Three members of the news staff—Sidney Pepper, Bob Bernstein, and Marjorie Van Arsdale—were national winners in the Quill and Scroll annual contest in the fields of editorial, sport, and feature writing respectively.

My Friends Say . . .

Dearest Jaquie,

I hope I hate half of this page because I'm going to take it. I always look forward to writing in your annual. It's the only time I get a chance to say what I think. You're a peachy, A-1 girl in my opinion. You know that. I can honestly say "We've had fun." I'll always have a lot of fond memories of your house, your basement and you. Live up to everything I want you to and you'll really go places. Be good.

All my love,

Barb (BQ)

Dear Jacques, - We've come a long way together.
 18 yrs. to be exact. (I think). Anyway it sure has been swell. I'll always remember the wonderful times that we have had in your house. I'll sure miss them, but then maybe we can have some more after you get an education at school & I'll get another kind of education. I hope so anyway. Until then here's wishing a gal, who I think is my best friend,
 loads & loads of luck.

One loss and one tie—these were the only blemishes on the otherwise perfect conference record of the 1943 Canine grid squad. They were sufficient, though, to land the Bulldogs in the number three slot, just one game behind the championship Spartans.

Bolstered by twelve lettermen, including three transfers, the Red and White swept through its three practice battles unscarred. Ed Flanigan scored the first touchdown of the year at Las Animas, paving the way for an 18-7 victory. The first home game of the season netted a 24-0 win as the boys ran rough-shod over the La Junta Tigers. Eight days later Rocky Ford fell before the Bulldog machine by a 13-6 score at Centennial Stadium.

The Purple and White of Walsenburg drew the honor of opening the conference race against the Thompsonites, taking home an 18-0 defeat for their trouble. Conner, Otten, and Boyd were the lads who tallied the touchdowns for Centennial.

The long journey to Salida the following Saturday proved fruitless, the boys failing to shake off an old jinx and losing to the Spartans 6-0.

The all-city struggle, played "over there" on Oct. 16, kept well within the limits of Centennial-Central tradition. The Bulldogs drew first blood when Jimmy Boyd snatched a Wildcat fumble early in the second quarter and raced 20 yards to score. Then in the third stanza a beautiful forward from Flanigan to Evans carried to pay dirt and the contest was on ice for the northside crew. Shifty Bill Nimmo shared the spotlight with Evans when the two boys annexed the DeMolay awards for their outstanding performances.

The Miners roared in from Trinidad the next Friday night to engage the Canines in one of the toughest frays of the year. When the hostilities finally quieted down, things were all even at 0-0, and Centennial's homecoming celebration was somewhat toned down.

The lads obviously took a liking to the Colorado Springs climate a week later, though, walloping the Terrors by a 25-0 count at Washburn stadium.

With the wind and the rain in their hair, the Bulldogs took the measure of Canon City's Tigers 20-0 behind Nimmo's masterly exhibition of broken field running.

The league season officially closed at Florence the following Saturday, when the Centennial crew ran up its highest point total of the season to mangle the Huskies 32-6.

Spirits here on the north side were quite in keeping with the weather on a bleak Thanksgiving day afternoon which saw the biggest upset of the year take place at Centennial stadium. For early in the fourth quarter of the city championship struggle Central capitalized on a blocked punt to score the only tally of the day to win the post-season spectacle 7-0. Eleven seniors completed their high school grid careers in the muddy Turkey day thriller.

Thirty-three lads were awarded their letters by Coach Scott Thompson. They in turn elected Guard Fred Dickerson their honorary captain for 1943.

For the third consecutive year, Centen's court crew proved itself the class of the South Central league, only to meet up with "sudden death" in the semi-finals of the annual state meet at Denver.

Seven seniors formed the nucleus of the squad as the Bulldogs opened the '43-'44 season with a two-day invasion of northern strongholds. Overtime battles appeared to be the order of the day as the Canines won their first victory of the season in an extra period contest at Boulder, after West Denver's towering Cowboys had stopped the Smithmen in five heats the evening before. Las Animas and Manzanola were the other pre-season victims of the Red and White, while Rocky Ford and Lakeside-Vineland finished on top in one-point or overtime affairs.

The initial league start found the defending league champs at home against the Colorado Springs Terrors, perennial second place winner. The Terrors won that one 25-24 with a desperate last-minute rally, after the local lads had outplayed their northern foes throughout three-and-a-half stanzas of the thrilling struggle.

At Florence the following week the boys finally climbed into the win column by trouncing the hapless Huskies 34-13, with Ruegg, Kingery, and O'Connor furnishing a major part of the fireworks.

Walsenburg was next in line, bowing before the Bulldogs at Centennial by a score of 32-23, as Pat Kingery took high-point honors with an artistic display of long shots. The next night, though, it was Evans doing the scoring as he and Bud Ludwig in the backcourt led the Red and White to a 30-23 win over the tall Miners from Trinidad.

The cramped Steel "Y" gym failed to prove a nemesis to the Bulldogs, who put an end to any Wildcat dreams of a city championship to the tune of 30-17. Patterson was the standout of the contest, racking up a total of ten points.

The long, narrow Canon City court and the rough-and-ready Tiger rooters almost combined to hand the Canines an upset, before Evans and Patterson finally iced the battle late in the final period. The final score of that one was 20-16.

All of which brings us to the most hair-raising weekend of conference play. Centennial won two games in those two nights, it's true, but by a total margin of just two points. After piling up a comfortable third quarter lead at Walsenburg, the Bulldogs fell victim to a sensational scoring show by Panther Lucero—who practically single-handed closed the gap to one point before a bit of brilliant defensive work by Kingery saved the day for the champs. At Trinidad, the Miners forced Bob Ruegg to uncork the most spectacular shot of the year in order to gain another one-point overtime victory for his squad.

Returning home once again, the boys celebrated the re-opening of the Junior College gym by humbling Central 32-25, as Bob Patterson warmed up against his favorite enemies to steal scoring honors.

An ancient jinx finally met its end when the Bulldogs took the measure of the Terrors at Colorado Springs 22-15, thereby virtually clinching the conference crown. Jack Skinner emerged the hero, his outstanding all-around play proving the margin of victory.

Florence fell 32-10, and Canon 26-23, in anti-climax matches which awarded the Canines their third straight league title.

The boys got off to rather a poor start in the state meet before rallying to down their first-round opponent, Fort Morgan, by a score of 23-17.

Then it was that all their dreams and hopes were shattered with one shot, as Boulder's Fitzgerald split the strings in the second overtime period to hand the Panthers a 31-29 "sudden death" decision in the semi-finals. O'Connor and Ruegg were the standouts of that spectacular battle which saw the final performances of seven seniors.

Skinner and Kingery, later elected co-captains of the squad, gained positions on the all-conference team; and Skinner and Ruegg were awarded second team all-state honors for their performances at Denver. Coach Fred Smith presented letters to eleven lads, four of whom will return to the hardwood next season.

Track

With two seniors and all the rest underclassmen, this year's track team is setting pace with East High of Denver as a probable winner of the state meet to be held May 20. Up to the time of the publication of the annual, the results were exceedingly good. In the Centennial Invitational meet, Centennial outscored our rival Trinidad for the possession of a trophy 91 to 38. Centennial again proved themselves best by taking first place in the Colorado University Relays on April 22. By using plenty of freshmen East High of Denver made the Bulldog undermen bow to them in the Denver University Relay 46 to 34 on April 29. There will be two more meets—Trinidad Dual meet on May 6 and the S. C. L. meet May 13 in Pueblo.

We will lose two seniors this year, Bill McDonnell and Bill Nimmo. The light-footed juniors on the team are Bill North, Bob Ruegg, Dick Conner, Earl Otten, Tom Stanton, Johnny Jones and Charles Temple. Keep your eye on sophomore Joe Lacy and John Chamberlain a frosh.

Girls' Rifle Club

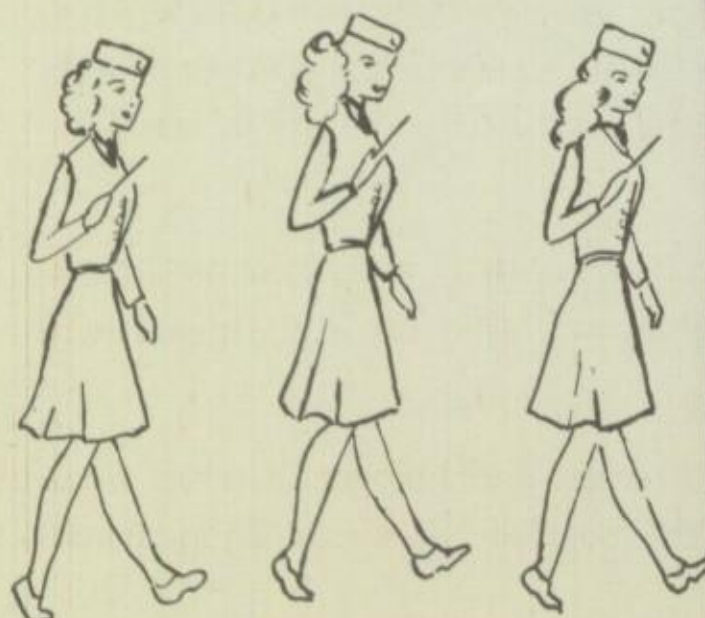

The Girls' Rifle Team completed another busy year under the direction of Miss Wentworth. This year we again entered the National Hearst Trophy contest. Contestants from here were Charlotte Murphy, Evelyn Terrill, Jean Sawyer, Verna Lou Fluke, and Shirley Porter.

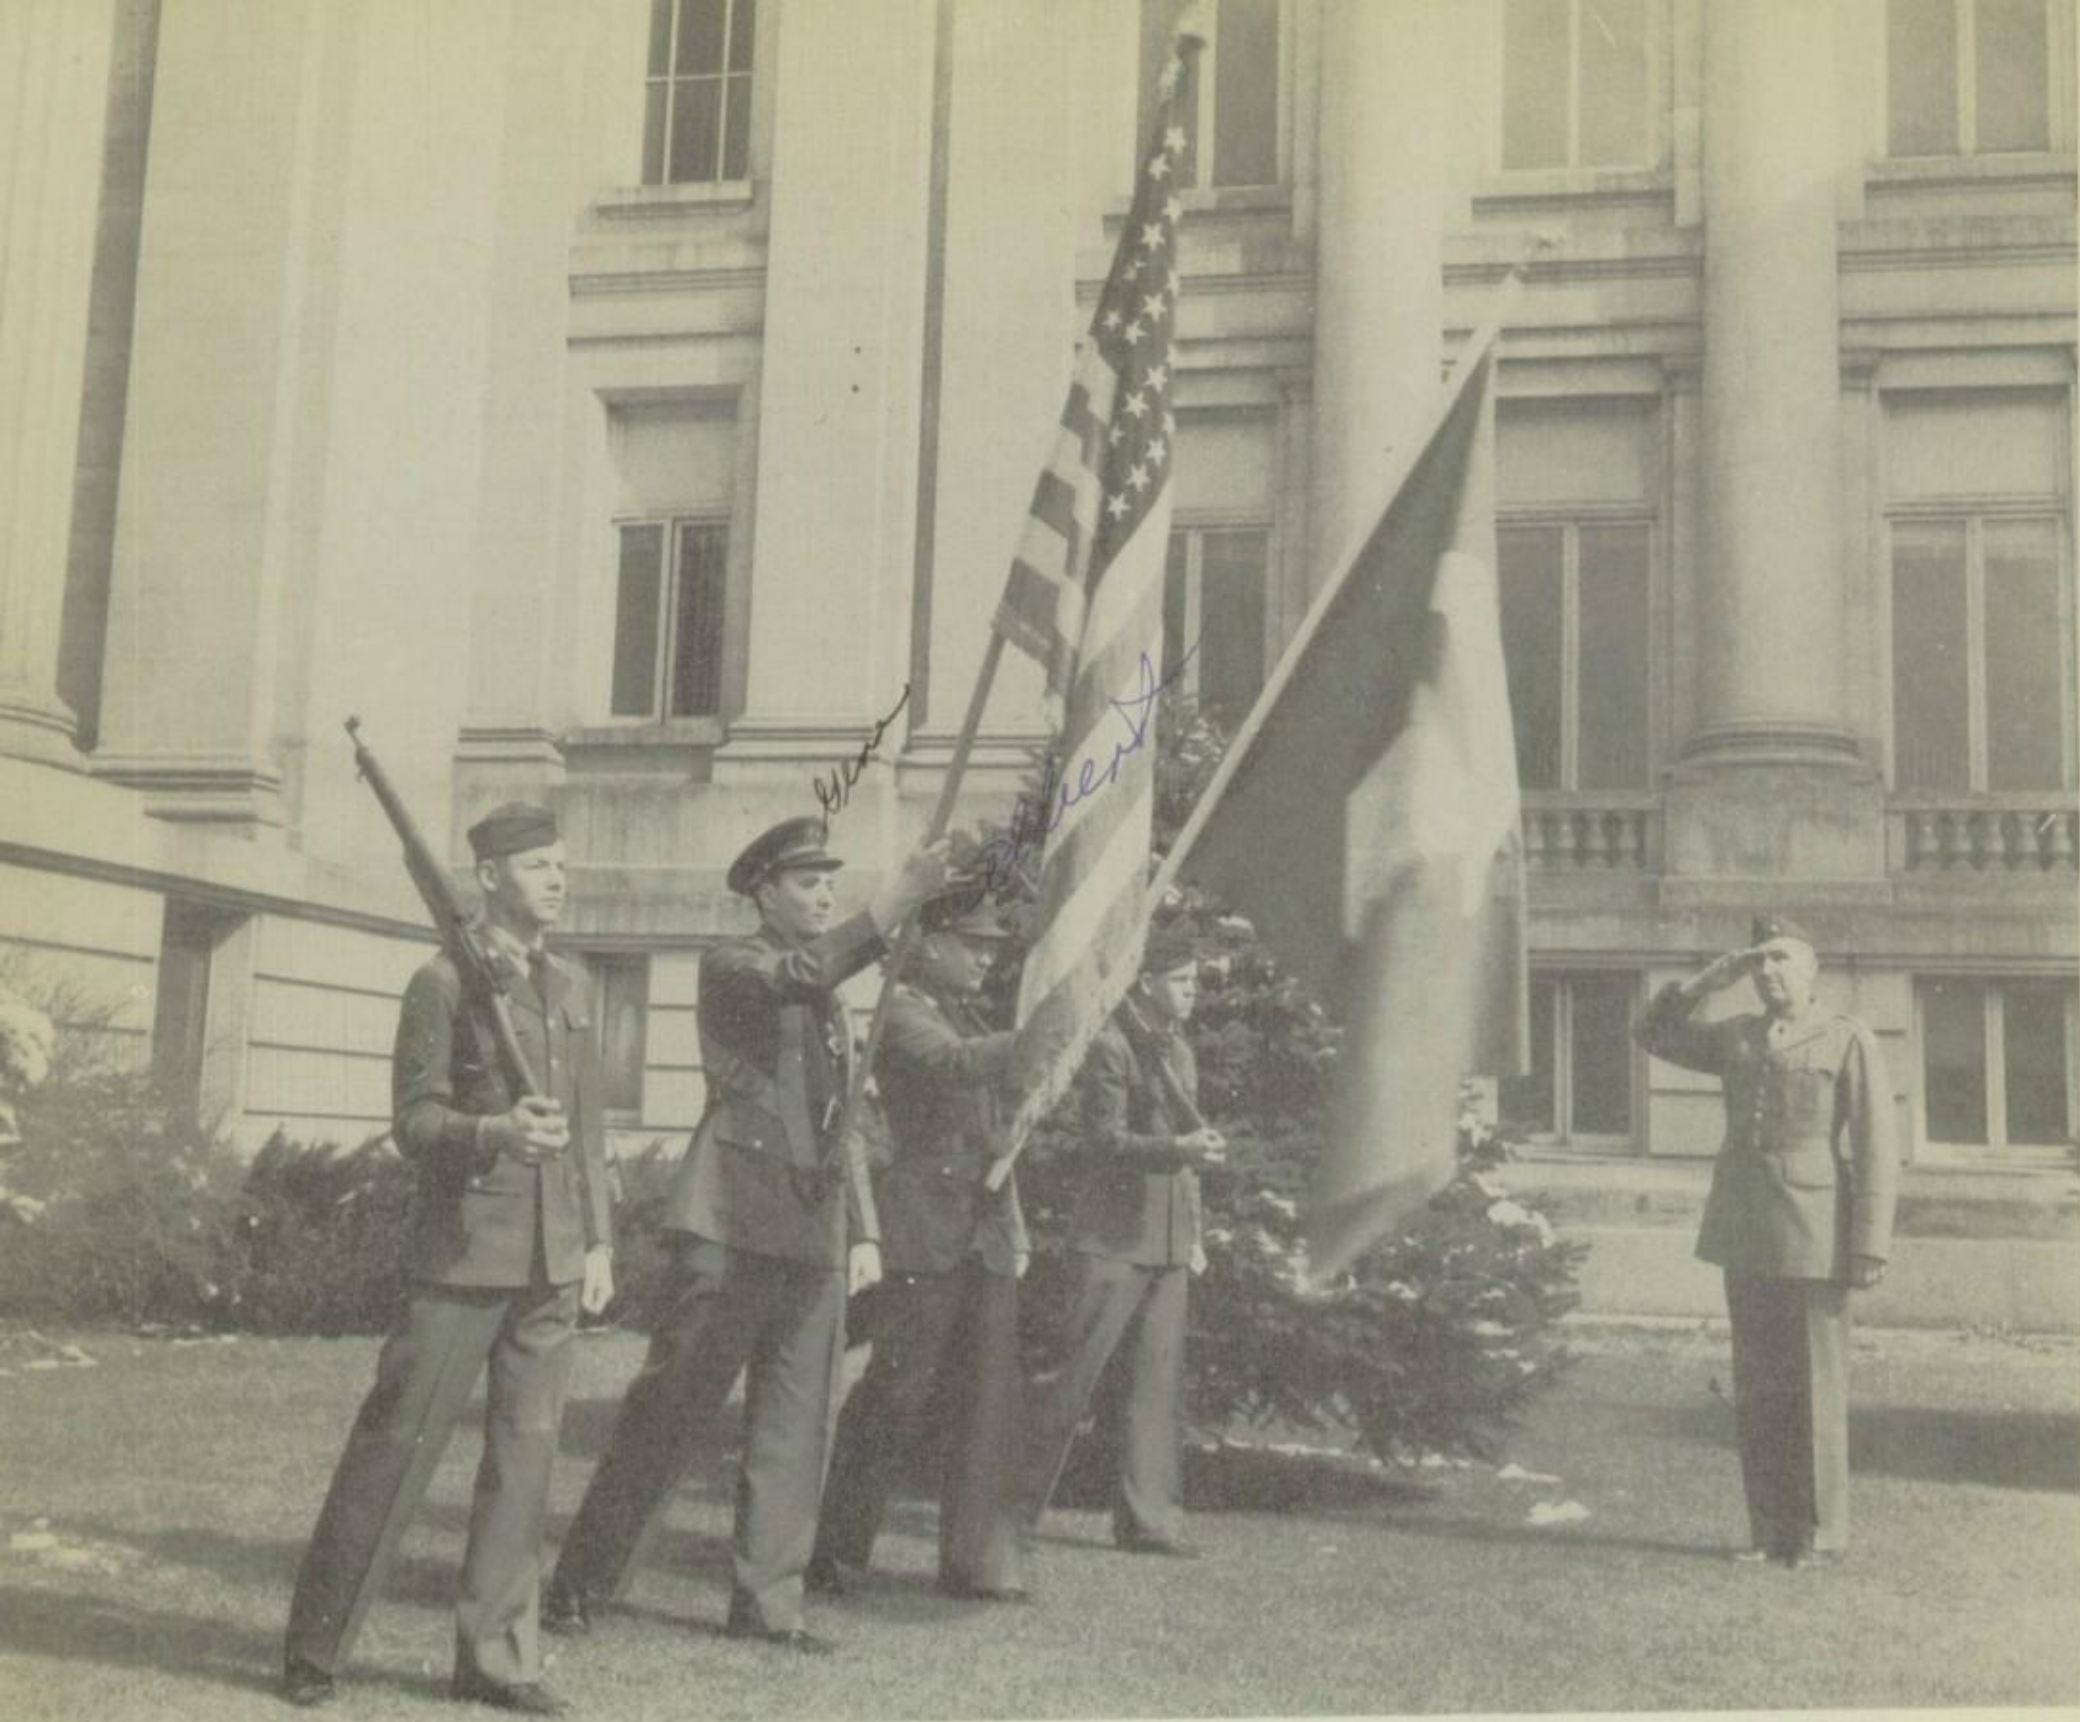

Early in the season a match was held for freshmen girls in which Elaine Cencel and Shirley Porter tied. A miniature gun was given to Shirley for being high freshman shooter in a sitting position.

In the Scholastic Rifle Contest, Charlotte Murphy and Hilogene Collins were finalists with Hilogene the winner. Entering the Southern Colorado Rifle match were the sixteen high marksmen.

R. O. T. C.

Centennial's R. O. T. C. battalion, under the leadership of Major John O. Lindahl, has retained the high standard of which Pueblo is justly proud. The unit was highly praised by Colonel Hill upon his inspection tour of April 25.

A program of both class-room work and outside drill was successfully carried out during the year, and the cadets gained much from both of these activities.

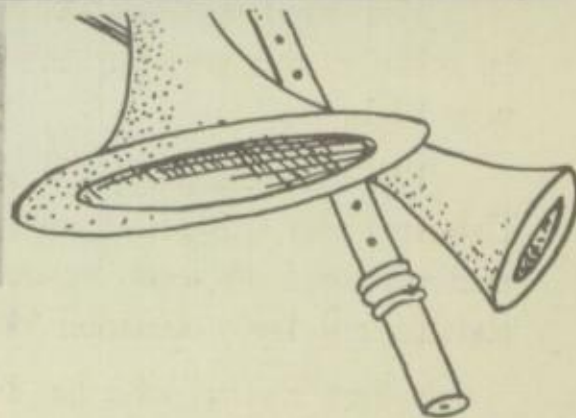

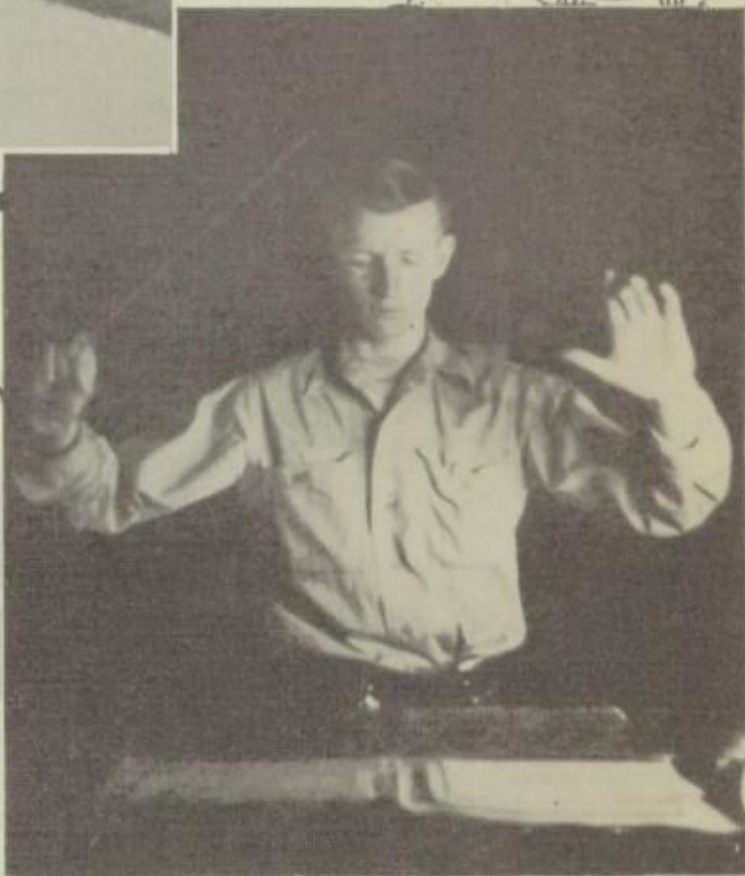

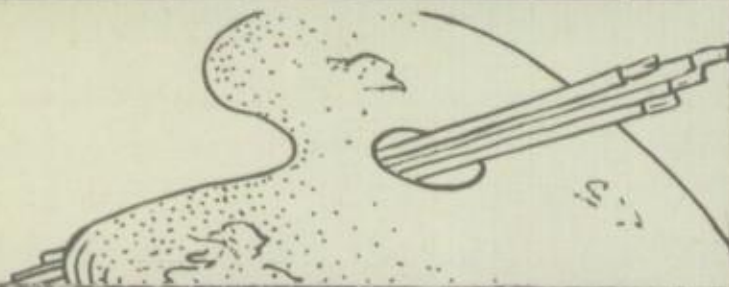

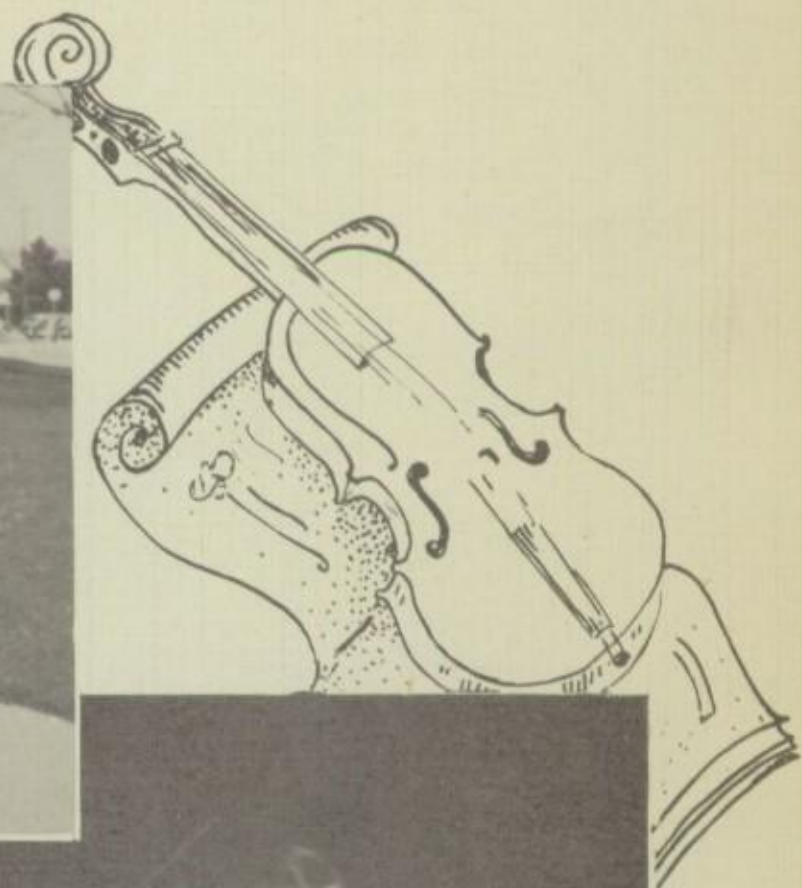

The band was named honor company for the year. This rating was obtained by winning the greatest number of inspections. The other companies were also rated very high.

The Centennial R. O. T. C. wishes to express gratitude to Lt. Colonel Charles Cramer, who was retired at the beginning of this school year. He is a grand fellow, and we were all sorry to see him leave. However, the R. O. T. C. unit was very fortunate to have obtained Major Lindahl's able direction for the year.

S/Sgt. Busby, who has been with us for three years, is leaving for active duty—our best wishes go with him.

—LYLE KINGERY.

FINE ARTS

The Stage is Set

Everyone has a more or less conscious longing to transform himself into something other than he is. This is why the passion for the theatre—to have a part in a play, or at least be an onlooker—is so keen in Centennial.

Remember that exciting moment, filled with anticipatory thrills, when hush followed the lowering of lights and the raising of the curtain on TWO CROOKS AND A LADY? Eugene Pillot wrote this one-act play, and it was presented as part of the vodevil. This type of production is one of the best ways for beginners to show possibilities.

Departing from the usual Christmas play centering around the divinity or the Santa Claus theme, VOICES, written by Hortense Flexner, appropriately brought out the idea of "Peace." The setting was a cathedral in war-torn France during the last World War. The spirit of Jeanne d' Arc represented all woman-kind fighting for a world peace and placed the spirit of Christ in the hearts of all. The cast consisted of only two players, one a peasant girl, Yvonne, and "The Other," who was the spirit of Jeanne d' Arc returning to her native village.

A light, deft comedy, THE PERFECT GENTLEMAN, as winningly acted as it was wisely directed, was given for the P.-T. A. This, together with the reading chorus, furnished a delightful evening's entertainment for the Dads and Moms.

Seldom has a curtain been raised on a larger or more appreciative audience than this year's Senior play, LETTERS TO LUCERNE. This timely play, written by Fritz Rotter and Allen Vincent, had a cast of fourteen players. The setting was a girls' boarding school in Lucerne, Switzerland, at the outbreak of this war. The girls were gay and friendly, deriving great pleasure from reading aloud their letters from home. However, the outbreak of the war changed their lives, destroying friendships and happiness. Ultimately a beautifully written concluding letter straightened everything out. It was a really tender play about real people, and although it was a war drama, it was sufficiently humorous at times. From costumes and make-up to acting, the play was "professional," and it proved a hit.

Play production requires a superlative amount of cooperative effort, of give and take, between director and players. Miss Charlene Garlick deserves much praise for her able coaching. Her range of creative direction can be gauged by the contrast between dramatic LETTERS TO LUCERNE and the rollicking comedy THE PERFECT GENTLEMAN. She has organized a new Dramatics Club for Centennial, and also had us become affiliated with National Thespian Society.

Dramatics shall ever be a potent factor in education.

National Thespian Society

National Thespian Dramatic Honor Society for High Schools is one of the two new dramatic organizations started in Centennial this year. Those chosen for membership are Centenniallights who have done outstanding work in some phase of dramatics. Its purpose is to strengthen the standards of dramatics in the high school. The society has finished a very successful year with Miss Garlick, critic; Betty Lou Nafe, president; Virginia Carson, vice-president; Barbara Lewis, secretary; Phyllis Buchanan, treasurer; Dale Parker and Virginia Hudspeth, co-clerks.

—MARY NELL SMITH.

Comets Club

Another organization new to Centennial this year is the Comets Club. Its purpose is to further dramatic activities in Centennial.

Members of the Comets Club produce plays, study make-up, and gather information concerning the theatre.

The club sponsor is Miss Garlick and the officers are Flossie Hutton, president; Betty Jean Jensen, vice-president; and Lois Salmon, secretary-treasurer.

Interlude Musicale

A hush falls over the audience as the curtain rises on an entrancing gypsy scene with the Red and White Choir in gala gypsy attire, singing campfire songs. An added feature is the Melody Men quartet of School District One singing comedy numbers. This was their appearance in the 1944 Vodevil.

Curtain going up! It's the Cecelian Choir, the outstanding organization of the Vocal Music Department under the direction of Roy N. Collins. The choir continuing its success of nine years, sings again and again for many entertainments throughout the city.

Curtain call! Much favorable comment attending the Cecelian Christmas assembly—beautiful and different! Carrying out the theme of a White Christmas, glistening snow flakes fell on an all white choir and a revolving white tree. Assisting in the production, the Dramatics department presented a Christmas dialogue.

AVE MARIA was sung by the Red and White Choir at Baccalaureate, and again Cecelian brings the curtain down as it sings at Commencement.

Art In Centennial

Art has its place on the stage. Yes, the Centennial Art Department has again played an important role in this year's play under the careful guidance of Miss Melin, art instructor. Through the years, the department has given much to its students in preparing them for future years. Some of its students are engaged in commercial art in various establishments in this city. Some are teaching art in our local schools.

The first year art student is given basic training in lettering, color theory and design, free hand drawing, and painting. For the second year art student there is theory of design, applied design, poster design, drawing from life, illustration, landscape composition and appreciation. For those who continue their work beyond the second year the course is planned to meet the needs and talent of the individual student.

As a stimulus to individual talent advanced students sometimes attempt murals. The mural in Senior Study Hall 3 was painted by a group of six girls in 1932. Some third and fourth year students in 1943 designed and started a mural for the Senior English Room. In the fall of 1944 two mural panels having as their theme "Outdoor Life in Colorado" were painted by Lu Marie Collins and Tim Taylor. These were presented to the Pueblo Air Base in December.

The Art Department has served as Service Station in many ways—making posters and signs for various activities. It has designed and helped decorate costumes for plays and operettas and has contributed often to the designing and making of stage scenery and properties.

In pre-war times, special Art Metal classes were conducted. There is also a class in Home Planning and decoration.

Among its many projects, the Art Department has worked hard in attempting to help create this book for you. The Art Staff rates a hand, boys and girls, and a curtain call, too!

ACTIVITIES

Centennial's War Activities

"Help win the war" has been more than just a slogan in Centennial this year—we've actually done something about it!

Four paper drives netted Centennial over seventy-three tons of waste paper, this was our way to help lessen the paper shortage. All the classes entered wholeheartedly in these drives and everyone did his share.

Several magazine drives were staged at various times during the year. These magazines were collected for the use of the boys in the hospital at the Pueblo Air Base. One of the girls' organizations gave two subscriptions of popular women's magazines to the nurses at the air base.

The stamp booth operated by Centennial students sold a considerable amount of stamps. Most of these stamps were purchased out of the students' own savings, thus combining patriotism and thrift.

Several assemblies of patriotic nature were presented during the year. One of the outstanding ones was the Armistice Day assembly. Air base performers entertained us more than once, and speakers on war subjects were many.

The students weren't the only ones who helped in the war effort—the faculty did its share and a little bit more. Almost any day you could have found teachers working at the Red Cross, the U. S. O., or giving time to the A. W. V. S. work.

Many Centennial girls worked at the Red Cross in the gauze room, and others served as Hospital Aides. Some of the boys saw to it that the Red Cross cars were kept spic-and-span. Other boys loaded and unloaded the blood plasma implements for the Pueblo Blood Bank.

The art students painted two Colorado murals which were presented to the Pueblo Army Air Base to be put up in the recreation room. One of the clubs made scrap booklets containing cartoons and jokes which they sent to Camp Carson and the Pueblo Base. Afghans were also knit by the girls for the Red Cross.

We all hope that these activities help to shorten the war. Even if they help to shorten it only by a few minutes or an hour, it will be something—something we can take pride in because "we" did it!

—BETTY LOU NAFE.

The Symbol  of Liberty

Air-Minded

The Aeronautics class of 1944 made a tour through the Pueblo Army Air Base seeing "The Squaw" and its crew. "The Squaw" had just returned from its historic trip, bombing the Ploesti oil fields. At the Pueblo Air Base various training units were explained and explored. Jack Skinner was able to "fly" in the Link trainer and cheerfully went into a spin. Each student had an opportunity to try out the various power turrets. The gunnery school introduced them to the gentle art of aiming. This last was done by pictures and other special devices.

Dearest Jacque,
When we all had a wonderful time in High School together. It's really been so long much time passing by in in school. I don't know what I'm going to do without you. It's going to seem so funny not having your name to hang with. Well, the best of everything to one of the sweetest girls I've ever known. It's to move on but good times. I hope to see you many many times.

Jacque

(None of the deeeeeer stuff

Dear Jacque, about all I can say is lots of luck to a swell senior.
Love Pug.

see, I don't want to embarrass you)

Well last year I could have gone on about your brains, but after this year we should talk about something else, say tennis. Well about tennis, no we better talk about something else. There has already been said enough about your (hmm) size, and has you've taken all in good spirit I won't clutter this up with that, too. If I don't talk about these things
I don't know what to ~~that~~ talk about so I think I'll close. Ah. Oh I forgot the Good Luck and don't forget to keep New Year's Resolution no. 4, or 5 or whatever it was.

your classmate in room and Physics and 6th period

Don Roper

Dear Jacque, I haven't been very sure to you & really am sorry I haven't met. I guess you think I am a big lug, but I really mean what I said. I have really had a lot of fun with you & have met with had gotten together might well will some day. I don't don't think to lead of me & know you should Love Jimmy Helgen

lots of luck jacque
to a really swell
classmate.
B. Helgen

Dear Jacques:
I know I've always considered you as my favorite sweet girl. I've done so much for me I hardly know how to begin to thank you. In fact I could thank you enough I should fill very gratified.
I've made my whole high school part what it should be - You tried to - guess that was a flop because of what you had to work with and I know you did all you could do probably more -
A girl with as much ambitions as you Jacques will see the road clear to the end - the very end, believe me. I'll never forget you. I'll write for everyone
I could do the same as everyone + say "Glad of luck + I will put it with hope a special meaning between us, which mean you been swell. Lots of luck this year. We've been being with you in Biology
It's really been swell
Dear Jacques:
Hi, cutie! I had so damn much fun with you want let this break up our good times though. See you next summer.
Love,
Doradene

Dearest Jacques,
you are perfection +

I mean the same thing, the
it doesn't matter much.
I hope I get to know you better
I love you I'll

Dear Jacques. Hoped I could make shirts! And I hoped I had a cute smile like yours. And I hope you have all the luck & etc. & all that that you want out of life. J. R.
Let's not lose track of each other.
Cause I sure like to laugh at your cleverness! (Wickle for that one, please) (Birth is ^{at} name) Gower

Dear Jacques,
Didn't we have fun cutting worms & frogs open? Here are my best wishes for luck & happiness in the years to come.

Patty Jo Jenkins

Dear Jacques,
Well, Jacques I sure have enjoyed these past four years. Also those in grade school. I have especially this last year. I had so much fun during sixth period. Lots of luck & love.

Dearest Darling Sweetheart Jacques.
I love you fast aren't I. Well Jacques you know how perfect I think you are I think about you and hope you have all the luck you deserve which is plenty
Love & Luck
